FOREWORD

As the time approaches when the years before become the years behind, and the summit of youth becomes glorified in the mystic haze that enshrouds the valley of age ; when our keenest enjoyment is found not in contemplating the days that are to come, but in reliving those that have gone by, then will the Boomerang of 1925 become to us the most thrilling romance that ever was written.

DEDICATION

Miss Hoekje

*'Tis little we do to repay you
For gifts of talent, of work, and of time ;
You hold up a mark and we follow —
To learn, to work, and to climb.
You mixed up our work with the spice of fun,
So we worked, though not knowing we worked ;
And when it was done
A life thread was spun
Of a strength to last for all time.

So to you is this work dedicated,
This year's record of fun and of toil,
So that all looking through and observing
May know you've the love of us all.*

Class History

On September 6, 1921, a heterogeneous band of pupils entered the halls of Holland High School. This same collection of eager but bewildered beings were destined to be the Senior Class of 1925. Like all previous graduates we consider our class the best. However, proof of its greatness may be found in the following events of our high school career.

CHAPTER I

Shortly after entering this abode it was found necessary, in order to cope with the haughty and dignified upper classmen, to organize our class. Bill Vande Water was given the task of steering us through our first year with the help of Mrs. Andrews, as patroness.

The Freshman Reception, which was given in our honor, greatly helped to introduce us to the social functions of Holland High. That social functions were not the most important part of our high school life soon was disclosed to us, for exams came upon us with a bounce, on some, so suddenly that they were stunned by their effect.

Later the mysterious workings of the Annual Caucus were revealed to us when election day arrived on May twenty-third.

CHAPTER II

Having had two months in which to recuperate from the trials and tribulations of our Freshman year, we again resumed our studies, no longer as timid Freshmen, instead we proved the saying that "You can always tell a Sophomore but you cannot tell him much." On Sarah Lacey's shoulders was placed the burden of the presidency during our second year. Our role as Sophomores passed with little excitement until our class day intervened. Then all abandoned their lessons and spent a gala day at Ottawa Beach.

CHAPTER III

At our first class meeting as Juniors Ethel Heneveld was chosen leader of the class. In February the Junior-Senior party was held at the Literary Club. The committees were well repaid for their efforts, for the party was a great success and we as Juniors were proud of our part in it. Studies then usurped our time until the annual outing was held at Jenison Park under the supervision of Miss Wickes. A real banquet was held out of doors, after which those present participated in many games.

Caucus this year was of great importance to us for it was from our class that the major officers of the school were chosen.

CHAPTER IV

Again in the month of September we gathered together for our last year in Holland High School. Perhaps it was because of the realization of this fact that we made our Senior Year such a success. Bill Vande Water was again our President and as we were without a mentor Mr. Leddick became our wise and faithful counsellor.

The first important event was the play "Either or Eyther" that the Seniors presented to the assembly and in which Richard Dekker surprised all by his ability as an actor. On March 17, we gave a final proof of our originality and cleverness when all the Seniors dressed in the habits of Irishmen partook in the program in commemoration of St. Patrick's day.

"To the Ladies", our Senior play, was presented to the public on the nights of March 24, 25, 26, 27. Who can forget Gerald Bolhuis, acting as a nervous husband longing for advancement and Frieda Boone as his wife to whom he owes all of his success?

Marjorie Du Mez having the highest average of the class received the honor of being valedictorian while Dorothy Stroop with the next highest average was salutatorian.

And now an important chapter in our life is about to come to a close. We will enter new fields by which we can make our way to higher and better ideals. As we leave to enter our different careers we bring with us the memories and best wishes of our own Holland High.

"Where a bit of sunshine hits ye,
After passing of a cloud,
Where a fit of laughter gits ye
And ye'r spine is feelin' proud,
Don't forget to up and fling it
At a soul that's feelin' blue,
For the minit that ye sling it
It's a boomerang to you."

"The Boomerang"
by Capt. Jack Crawford.

Class Prophecy

Tum-ta-dee-ta-dee, s-q-p-ee-k, ta-ta-dee, ta-ta-dum-ta, squeek. That's not coming in good, let's try another station—a noted philosopher—why I wonder who that is! Listen! make it louder!

"Topics of the day broadcast from Station H. H. S." Why that's Alice Donnelly, she was a member of my class. Oh I wish we could have heard the beginning!

Clarence Knowles—a famous actor playing the role of Julius Caesar.

Vivian Nye—a Domestic Science teacher who has just taught the Chinese a new recipe for Chop Suey.

Gerald Bolhuis—Successes to Rudolph Valentino.

Esther Brink—Famous newspaper reporter on the New York Sun.

Austin Rank—Owns one of the largest bakeries in Zeeland.

Florence McVea—Telephone Operator. ("We all remember the kid's fondness for talking.")

James Hoeksema—As Dempsey has joined the movies Jim has taken his place in the world as a pugilist.

Rachel Brower—Matron of a home for old married couples.

Marie Schumacher—Inventor of a "new bleacher" for hair and now running a hair dressing parlor.

Wayne Hamlin—Superintendent of a large factory where he has many waiting upon him. ("He developed the trait in high school.")

Maybelle Crowell—Has resigned as art teacher in Holland High in order to accept an offer to become a member of the Beaux Arts.

George Essenburgh—An Evangelist following in the footsteps of Billy Sunday.

Paul Landwehr—Attracted by the heavy pay Paul has become a successful brick layer.

Eva Tysse—Medical Missionary to the natives of South Africa.

Jacob Pelon—Compiler of a new dictionary introducing many new and strange words.

Alvin De Vries—A cartoonist ranking very close to Sidney Smith.

Albertha Homfield—Has the distinction of being the first woman light housekeeper. ("She always liked to be alone.")

Carl Dykstra—Has risen from the vocation of a chemist to a druggist.

Clyde Coster—World's Heavyweight Championship. ("His growth has astonished everyone since he left high school.")

Marion Bazan—Expert Aviatrix ("Marion always was a high flyer.")

Tom Van Zanden—Has been recognized as one of the most famous basket ball coaches of the day. The University of Chicago has the honor of claiming him.

Class Prophecy — Continued

Evelyn Boone—Is taking the place of Dorothy Dix on the Grand Rapids Press.

Glen Severance—Chairman of a chautauqua that travels throughout the country giving lectures.

Ethel Heneveld—Principal of a kindergarten in Chicago.

Irving Tucker—A famous lawyer pleading for the rights of the poor people in the Netherlands.

Laura Abbott—A noted novelist ("Still waters run deep.")

Raymond Van Raalte—Elevator man at Herpolsheimer's.

Jerine Koning—Referee of all sports at Holland High.

Clarence Klaasen—Professor of history at Columbia University.

Hilda Hansen—A Farmerette in the mountains of New Hampshire.

John Maat—Leader of the Anti-Cigar and Cigarette Union.

Frieda Boone—A French Modiste—she has an exclusive shop in Paris.

Dean Martin—Professor of French at U. of M.; noted for his changes in the pronunciation of many French words.

Mae Eloise Westveer—Waitress in Keefer's Restaurant. ("Everything comes to her who waits").

Richard Dekker—Manager of the Shoe Department at Marshall-Fields.

Sarah Lacey—Sarah thrills the world with her daring feats on the trapeze.

Cornie Bramse—Life-saver at Palm Beach. ("We always knew how much Cornie went after the girls").

Loraine Raak—Thrills her audiences with sweet melody that would make Mary Garden envy.

"This concludes our program for this evening. Station H. H. S. signing off at 9:30 o'clock Eastern Standard Time. Jock Riemersma announcing."

The men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed.—Lloyd Jones.

Last Will and Testament

We, the members of the class of 1925 knowing that our days in Holland High School are nearing an end, and realizing that many of our superfluous good qualities might be squandered, do hereby individually bequeath the following:

What Is Your Goal?

Suppose a boat breaks from its mooring and drifts one hundred miles from shore. Will it ever return to the port from whence it started? No, unless by sheer accident. It is tossed from the trough to the crest of the waves. It is finally dashed to pieces by the raging fury of the elements. The tragedy of life is to be found in the young man or woman who drifts aimlessly out into life, only to be dashed to pieces by the very elements which he, by divine right, should harness, master, and utilize in furthering him on his course.

Only ten per cent of the people in this country have an ultimate aim—a genuine motive for living! This is the great tragedy of American life. "We are drifters and floaters on the sea of life, instead of being pilots and captains. We are followers and failures, instead of leaders and successes."

The young man or woman without an ultimate aim is as mere putty. Such a person is but a human derelict for whom there is no hope. The person who drifts has no aim, and, therefore, sees no opportunities. The mind and soul with all their thoughts, hopes, impulses, desires, prejudices and aspirations are but a confused mass until organized and made effective by the conscious power of an earnest, consecrated purpose.

What kind of a position do you expect ultimately to fulfill? What is your goal in life? True, as Harrington Emerson says: "There is one quickest, best, easiest method of acquiring the desirable things of life." But you must first decide what you want. The aim is the thing. When once you choose your purpose and fortify it by a burning, conquering determination, you will naturally begin to study ways and means for reaching your goal. No matter if you have the ability of a Webster or a Napoleon, you will never be successful without the stimulus of a great purpose.

It is not enough merely to have a purpose. It must be legitimate. When asked what his business was, Andrew Carnegie replied: "My business is to do as much good as possible." The ideal of Captain Webb was to swim the Niagara whirlpool. He perished in the useless attempt. To work for either money or fame for its own sake is unworthy of any man. Remember, there is only one legitimate purpose in life and that is to serve humanity in some way.

Let us have a lofty purpose. Let us have a definite aim. Let us dare to achieve. Let us look ahead not back, up not down, and press on. Our success will be the reward of labor intelligently directed.

"A Toast from the Seniors"

It is with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow that we look back over our school days. As we are about to bid Old Holland High good-bye all the memories of our former wantonness come back to us.

We, now, almost for the first time, have come to appreciate the kindness and forbearance of our teachers. We believe that if we had these years to live over again, we would be better able to show our appreciation of their kindness and concern for us in a more substantial way.

Unfortunately, this cannot be and so we shall do the only thing which remains to us—to make men and women of ourselves whom they shall be proud to claim as their former pupils. We shall never cease to regret any seeming disrespect we may have shown to them. If there is any sort of real manhood or womanhood in us, we have set a goal for ourselves which we must attain, or acknowledge defeat.

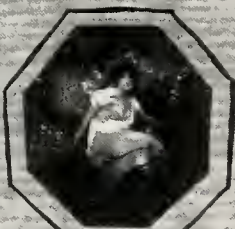

We all think better of ourselves when we have done a piece of work which has required all the strength we possessed. Such a task, when completed, makes us feel we have won a victory in the battle of life. As our class of 1925 takes its place in the ranks of the Holland High alumni, the thought of leaving our school, which holds for each of us, the fondest memories of love and friendship, brings forth a feeling of sadness.

It is with pleasure that we look back to the four years we have spent in high school. We are exultant because we have overcome all the difficulties which beset our way; yet, this feeling already begins to be mingled with one of uncertainty for we cannot feel so sure of our future success. But we feel that with the same determination with which we have fought our way through school, we shall be able to win out in whatever we attempt.

Let three cheers for Holland High testify to our enthusiasm forever. Yea! Holland! Yea! Holland! Yea! Yea!

Junior Class

The Junior Class of 1925 is by far the largest in the history of Holland High School. However, we not only excell in quantity, but in quality as well, as the records of the past year will show.

In a contest for the best essay on the subject of "Why Ready to Measure Clothes are Best," a Junior won first prize. In a Safety Pledge Contest another first was scored by a Junior. The Van Den Berg art pribe was won by one of our class members. In the Commercial Department prizes were won by several Juniors.

On account of static and other interference the Junior-Senior party has been postponed from time to time, but we hope the day will soon be set for keeps and then, all aboard for a grand and glorious time! We are also looking forward to Junior Day which will be held some time during the Spring and if past performances are to be duplicated we can expect to enjoy another round of pleasure at that time.

In athletics we won the track meet by a substantial margin. The Class Spirit of the 1925 Juniors has set a new record for altitude and our morale has been one and a half first class. We are all very enthusiastic boosters for our school and we consider it a privilege to be a spoke in the wheel of H. H. S.

I consider a human soul without an education like marble in the quarry.—Addison.

Sophs here! Sophs there! We're all over—In both the first and reserve teams in basketball and football; track, assembly-room plays, and on the honor roll, too.

We are also one of the largest classes in the history of Holland High School. We compose a peppy organization of which many have already been heard to say, "Wait until WE are seniors, won't WE do great things?" This shows that many Sophomores have great expectation, and will strive to make good.

The Sophomore Class as a whole is a lively class, full of enthusiasm, clean spirit, and fight. We are bound to come out right! Every Sophomore should be proud of his class and boost it. Just wait until we are seniors in 1927!

Freshman Class Report

Do you know us? Sure you do! High School Freshman—one hundred per cent true.

Our Class has shown a live interest in all High School activities and, if present indications prove true, will be heard from in the future.

For a time there was a danger of our being sent back to the Junior High building to finish our nine-two work. After being in High School for six months and thinking of ourselves as High School students, it would have been extremely disappointing to be compelled to leave for one semester. However, the danger is past, and we are very grateful to the Faculty for allowing us to remain in the High School building. This gives us the distinction of being the last class with four continuous years in High School. Next year we will still be the lowest classmen. But don't worry:

For we'll not be late;
A steady climb,
One step at a time,
We'll be Seniors in '28.

Every man must educate himself. His books and teachers are but helps; the work in his.—Webster.

Student Government

June 1925, will see the close of twelve years of Student Government in the Holland High School. From an experimental institution it has grown into one of the most vital units of our high school life. Year by year its scope and power have been strengthened by more loyal student support and faculty co-operation.

From purely a governmental standpoint the students have appreciated the confidence imposed in them by the faculty; and the universal desire of everyone to "make-good" has made itself felt.

Outside of the class rooms the devotion of the council to a more business like attention to athletics has rendered a very satisfactory service to the school. Better management meant better finances, more finances furnished better and more athletic equipment which greatly increased the general average of participation in the different athletic departments. Under these conditions almost everyone now takes an active part in some branch of sport.

The eyes of the nation are at present focused, with growing interest, on the Student Government Movement. The skeptics of yesterday are the most ardent supporters of to-day.

Holland High School should feel a real measure of pride in its organization for at the April meeting of the State Student Government body, Holland High was given the honor of furnishing the presiding officer for the next annual conference.

George Essenburgh served as Mayor during the 1924 semester and Tom Van Zanden during the 1925 semester. Sarah Lacey acted as Clerk, Clyde Coster as Treasurer and Irving Tucker as Chief-of-Police.

The aldermen were:

First Ward	MABEL ESSENBURG, WILLIAM WINTER
Second Ward.....	JERINE KONING, JUNIA MULDER
Third Ward	GLADYS HUIZINGA, MADELINE COTE
Fourth Ward	FRIEDA BOONE, HAROLD JAPPINGA
Fifth Ward	MYRA TEN CATE, PAUL NETTINGA

The Boomerang Board

The Boomerang Board, at your service! Very much at your service this past year.

It is rather a serious task to put out an annual for such a large and discriminating group as we find in Holland High School. However, each department is able to accomplish a good deal of real, hard work—even the joke department is no joke.

Our success this year is in a large measure due to able leadership. We are most fortunate in having for our faculty advisor Miss Ross. The title "faculty advisor" does not begin to suggest the importance of that office. With her, Frieda Boone has proved herself a wonderfully efficient executive.

It has been both pleasant and enlightening to attempt to search out of our school life those gems which you now enjoy and will dream over in years to come.

Many are the problems, many the snags that we have run up against this year, but if we have succeeded in keeping for you something worth while, something you will delight in looking back upon in some future day, we will consider our duty done and your approbation fit reward.

Maroon and Orange Staff

Mr. M: O! What is this picture?

Mr. O: That is the Maroon and Orange staff.

Mr. M: Oh sure. Say, do you remember those two conferences in which the Maroon and Orange was represented? Our paper was judged among the thirteen best in Michigan. You know Glen Severance went to the C. I. P. A. at Madison and Jacob Pelon went to Ann Arbor to the M. I. P. A. The Maroon and Orange staff learned some good things from those conventions.

Mr. O: Yes. The paper has managed to keep up with the news very well. The Maroon and Orange was all student work this time; it was printed as well as written by them. A high school paper is a good thing. It tells one section of the school what the other is doing. The students and faculty are on better terms when one knows what the other is trying to do. It also stimulates interest in every branch of school life.

Mr. M: Yes, it helps to keep awake a real high school spirit. The minor officers of the staff were changed every half-semester to give each member a trial at some different kind of work.

Mr. O: There is a big chance for the Maroon and Orange to grow. Austin Rank's record shows that it is on its feet financially. The students will support it any time. It will be a big step when the staff can publish one every week.

Mr. M: The staff certainly owes Miss Hoekje a good deal for all she has done. Such a school paper would not be possible were it not for her experience and training and the way she has used it.

The body is the shell of the soul, and dress, the husk of that shell; but the husk often tells what the kernel is.—Anon.

Literary Board

The Literary Board decided that since the Chapel period is so much shorter than it has been in the past the programs should be given during some period of the day. Every society and organization in the High School were given a definite date on which to entertain the school. The programs have shown a great amount of care and thought because of the large number of clever plays and original stunts that have been given. There was been a very fine selection of outside talent. Some of our programs have been somewhat serious but most of them have been highly entertaining and humorous. The Seniors gave their last program on St. Patrick's Day when they gave a good showing of their wit and humor. By the way that the students and faculty look forward to the programs it is very evident that everyone enjoys them to the utmost.

Welfare Board

"What lovely flowers," exclaimed the visitor.

"Yes, aren't they? The high school sent them to me," answered the girl who was just recovering from an illness.

She went on to explain. "We have a Welfare Board in high school which sends flowers from the high school to students who are ill. This board is composed of a member from each class besides a faculty advisor."

"How do they know when the students are ill?" asked the visitor.

"The chairman looks through the records in the principal's office and notes the names of those students who have been absent more than a week. The teachers or other pupils are questioned whether or not the student is ill. If he is, the Board sends flowers or a greeting. They also send flowers when a student loses his mother or father."

"Do they send out many flowers?" inquired the visitor.

"Yes, indeed. On the average the Board sends out flowers once a week. The Welfare Board surely lives up to its aim of trying to cheer high school students who are ill. The nicest part of it is that the students send notes of thanks."

"What a splendid thing for the high school the Welfare Board is," said the visitor in parting.

Police Board

The Articles of Confederation failed because it provided for no means of law enforcement. The same would be true of our own Student Government were it not for the efficient Police Board that is connected with it.

The Police Board consists of the Chief-of-Police and four officers. With the utmost co-operation of all the officers, it supervises and sees that all laws laid down by the Student Council are fully enforced and that perfect order is kept throughout the building. Whenever any student does not comply with the warning of an officer, a complaint is made to the Chief-of-Police who then fills out and serves a warrant upon that student. He is then tried before the private court which consists of the Chief-of-Police, the Mayor and the Principal of the High School, and the punishment is judged according to the crime. If it is the second offense of that student, he is tried before the Student Council.

It also has charge of the fire drills that occur during the year; always working with the idea of breaking the previous record.

The Police Board deserves much credit for the splendid work which it has done to make the Student Government of Holland High School a success; but thier success is due largely to the splendid co-operation of the student body.

Park Board

Soon after the beginning of school in the fall the members of the park board met and the duties of the board were explained to the new members and also the plans for the coming year were discussed. The Park Board has looked after the care and protection of the lawn and also seen that no paths were made on the lawns. The shrubbery which was killed out last year was replaced by new shrubs. The help of the Police Board in keeping the students off the lawn was greatly appreciated by the Board. However, the duties of the Board have not been so great this year as other years because of the bicycle racks and also the new Junior High has simplified the problems of the Park Board as has the fine co-operation of the students. Let's keep this up and have beautiful school grounds as well as a beautiful school building.

Books Are the Food of Youth

A school without a library is like a work-shop without a tool-chest. Books are the tools of high school work, and if the workman will be successful the tools must be well sharpened and easy of access. A library movement is sweeping the country, flaunting its slogan 'the school library: a necessity in modern education.' As Holland High School is well in the vanguard of educational movements, its library proves no exception.

This first year the foundations were laid. The high school library has three objectives,—(1) to furnish the pupil and the teacher with the tools fitted to his particular line of work; (2) to help the student form the habit of using these tools when he has left school-building behind; (3) to open his eyes to the world of beauty and of truth that is found in books. The first step in this direction was the assembling and classifying of the volumes on the shelves. By helping with this work a Senior and a Junior assistant earned library credit for learning the trade.

At the beginning of the year the book-cases at the back of the Assembly Room were emptied of their dusty, groaning treasures to become the hall of fame of our athletic trophies. Before long the books that had been thus spirited away showed their washed faces in a smiling row on the new library shelves. New books came to join them, and cousins from the different class-rooms were soon hobnobbing together. These were all separated into various families and a complete dictionary catalog with Library of Congress cards served as a directory of the large relationship. With the addition of library furniture to the room, circulation and the use of the magazines has been steadily increasing.

Next year we will build on this year's foundation. An enlarged, well equipped reading-room will give the true library atmosphere, and library classes will teach every student to help himself. For the library aims to oil the wheels of education.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta has passed its eleventh milestone and behind each has left records of happy and successful years. The deeds accomplished by its members who have fulfilled their motto, "Keep Digging," have each in turn brought our society nearer to the goal of perfection. Her colors, black and gold, representing the dark and the sunny sides of life, remind the girls that reverses will come, and thus prepare them for the failures as well as the successes of life.

This year, Kappa Delta has not only upheld her standard of former years but has advanced far beyond them, and with Miss Anthony as patroness and Alice Donnelly as president, the society has been led through a year the record of which will number among the best in Kappa Delta's history.

Kappa Delta, onward ever;
 As you have done in the past
 With motto hidden never,
 "Keep on Digging" to the last.

Dnalloh Hgih

The beginning of the school year found Dnalloh Hgih making an earnest endeavor for the betterment of its literary work. As a result our programs were exceptionally good, and the meetings well attended. During the year we entertained the Athenaeum Literary Society, and presented programs in the Assembly which were clever and original, as was our imitation of the Faculty, given at the Freshmen Reception. Dnalloh Hgih also did its share in decorating the goal posts each week during football season.

Much of the success this year is due to Mr. Hinga, our patron, who has devoted his time and efforts to the improvement of our programs and meetings.

The grand finale of the year, the annual "Bust," has always been a success, and we are sure it will be this year.

Altogether, this has been one of the best years in the history of the society, and one of which we have reason to be proud.

Athenaeum Literary Society

"Have you ever heard the Athenaeum Orchestra play, Bill?"

"Did I! Well, I guess so! They fill an engagement at least twice a week. Why, they've played at every P. T. in the city, at the Mothers and Daughters Banquet of the Blue Triangle, for assembly-room programs, and I don't know where all! Say, boy, they're sure making a hit with that six-piece orchestra, you know it?"

"They certainly are. And did you know the Athenaeum was the first society in this High School to turn out an orchestra? Let me tell you that's quite an honor."

"It surely is. And they've got a quartet too, did you know that? Just think of it! Remember, the Athenaeum Literary Society is only two years old, at that!"

This is one of the ordinary conversations heard from time to time between students regarding the Athenaeum Literary Society. It will not be an easy matter in the future for the society to make as much progress and gain such popularity in a single year as it has in the school year now drawing to a close.

On January 15 the Sigma Chi Literary Society entertained as guests the members of the Athenaeum Literary Society. This joint meeting was a great success and a social event which strengthened the bonds of friendship and fellowship between the members of the two organizations.

All Athenaeum members now look forward to their joint meeting with Dnalloh Hgih Literary Society which will be held in the near future. The last and biggest social event of the year will be the annual Athenaeum "bust" which will be the grand culmination of the society's most successful year.

When speaking of the success and accomplishments of the Athenaeum Literary Society, we would not fail to mention that our achievements are due largely to the untiring efforts and faithful advice of our worthy patron, Mr. J. A. Bennett.

National Honor Society

Character, scholarship, service and leadership are the qualifications of the members of the National Honor Society. Symbolic of this is the pin given to each member. This emblem, decorated with a torch held high in the arms of youth, inspires all students with the highest and best ideals.

In the national organization are some four thousand members from all over the United States. Its object is to raise the standard of scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote talent for leadership, and to foster the development of character.

Holland High School was the first school in Michigan to organize a chapter of the National Honor Society. Rules and regulations of this Chapter comply with those of the national organization.

When the Holland Chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools was organized in 1923, ten members were elected from the upper fourth of the Senior Class. Then, as now, they were elected by the members of the faculty who, in electing them, considered their past achievements, present works and future possibilities.

Although election to the National Honor Society is the greatest honor which can be bestowed upon a student, the purpose is not merely to give glory to those chosen. A higher aim is to encourage them to excel in their fundamental virtues.

To further this aim the alumni of the National Honor Society have organized an alumni body known as "Torch Keystones." The task to which the present organization has set its energy is to create enthusiasm for an all-alumni association.

Most high schools of the size of Holland High have such an organization as this and if the "Torch Keystones" succeed in forming a live alumni association, they would be doing a great service for the school.

State High School Shorthand and Typewriting Contest

On April 25, Holland High sent eleven students to Muskegon Heights to compete in the district contest of the fifth annual State High School Shorthand and Typewriting Contest.

Thirteen schools are included in the fourteenth district, but only seven were represented—Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Hart, Holland, Coopersville, Fremont and Grand Haven. However, these seven schools sent a total of seventy-five contestants who together with their teachers and the officials of the contest were most cordially entertained by Muskegon Heights High School Commercial Club.

Doris Brower and Manuel Huyser won first and second places in the first year typewriting event and will represent Holland High at the State Contest to be held at Kalamazoo on May 15.

The rating of the schools represented this year is:

Grand Haven	First
Muskegon Heights	Second
Holland	Third
Muskegon	Fourth
Coopersville, Fremont and Hart were eliminated.

The purpose of the society as stated in the constitution is as follows: "To obtain a more thorough knowledge of the world's great literature, to cultivate facility and power in the use of the English language, to learn to know the details of parliamentary law; to train one another in correct social forms, and to co-operate in all efforts for the welfare of our school."

Athletic Sisters

The Athletic Sisters aim to promote all forms of athletics and to aid with financial as well as moral support.

The society was established in 1920 and since that time has succeeded in carrying out its aim. This year has been no exception, for we have not only succeeded in purchasing sweaters for Loth Football and Basketball teams, but we have also been able to buy monogrammed sweaters for the senior girls.

We are all glad to do this for our school and ask only co-operation and appreciation in return.

The Blue Triangle Club

Do you like to work? Do you enjoy making others happy? Are you anxious to learn about the important questions of life? Do you like a good time? If you do you are a member of the Girl Reserves. Look at these examples of the topics we study at our meetings: "The Old Fashioned Girl," "Faithfulness".

The joint meeting of Blue Triangle and Hi-Y and the Mothers and Daughters Banquet were very good examples of the good times we have.

There are problems of all sort to be solved in high school. There are the problems that concern the whole school and those that concern the individual. The Blue Triangle Club strives first of all to help the girl solve her own problems. However, we do not stop there but attack the school problem as well. We try to

Face life squarely

To find and give the best.

"Hi-Y"

The year of 1924-25 has been one of the most successful years that the Hi-Y has ever had. Not only has the Hi-Y succeeded at home but it has also made itself known among the other Hi-Y's throughout the State.

The local Hi-Y sent twenty-eight delegates to the "Twenty-second Annual State Older Boy's Conference held at Muskegon, November 28, 29, 30, and received double honors. At the Conference, Jacob Pelon was elected as the Fifth Vice-President and Irving Tucker was elected Secretary of all the Hi-Y's in Michigan.

Later the Hi-Y sent its four officers to a district Conference held at Hastings, at which Irving Tucker was the presiding officer.

To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, a high standard of Christian character has been the aim upheld during the entire life of the society.

Membership in Hi-Y is open to every fellow in High School, and we cordially invite all to attend because it is helpful to himself and to the entire student body.

DEBATING CLUB

Debating Club

The second year of debating for Holland High School has passed and left much for us. Although victories have been few, the teams have contested strongly with all their apponents on the question of Philippine Independence.

Work was started shortly after the school term opened. Under the coaching of Mr. Lowrey and the presidency of Jacob Pelon speeches were prepared for the negative side. Holland held the negative for most of the year, changing to the affirmative in February.

The Club is a benefit to the school. People of the world are more than ever realizing the value of good speakers and of people who can think and talk on questions of the day. Debating is one of the best means of getting at the real truth of a question. The ones who have worked on the team have been fully repaid for all the work they have expended. They feel that it has not been in vain for they have gained much of the best of experience.

This has been only the second year of debating for Holland teams. Holland has speakers superior to many in Michigan and there is always abundant material but it will require the backing and interest of the students to turn out a winning team.

The Art Club

"I say, why is everybody rushing over that way?" The question was asked by a stranger visiting Holland High School. The group whom he was addressing stopped, and finding that the stranger was interested, invited him to sit down while they told him all about it.

"There is a club in this school made up of enthusiastic students who meet once a month in Miss Goldsmith's class room."

"What does the club do? What is its interest? Its purpose and its work?"

"Why, its purpose is to make people happier by learning to love and appreciate Art. We study the great artists and their work. Altho it is the newest club in school the programs are fine and the members eager and peppy. We are expecting big things from it in the future."

Senior Play

The play "To The Ladies" was successfully presented by the Seniors of 1925.

The first act of the three-act comedy shows the simple home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Beebe as they receive a call from his employer and wife. A nervous husband and a composed wife greet the guests.

The first scene of the second act shows Leonard Beebe laboriously practicing a speech, LEARNED from a book, which he intends to give at the banquet of the Piano Co. Second scene of the act is the banquet. Here much ORATORY is displayed but another man gives Leonard's speech so his wife, Elsie, again saves the situation.

In the third act, an office scene, Leonard nearly loses his position but thru the help of his wife and his manager's wife, he keeps his job and learns to recognize the great aid his wife can be to him.

There are many humorous situations and lively moments in the play which were well handled by the cast.

A pair of beautiful blue curtains have been purchased for the stage and some other memorial will be given by the class.

Music

The regular music classes which meet twice a week during school hours have been enjoying a course in music appreciation and some phases of musical history this year. The enrollment while still small has been a marked improvement over last year.

At Christmas time these classes presented a program of "Ye Olde Tyme Chrystmasse Carols," using the traditional songs, and dressing in the costumes of the periods in which they were written. They were assisted by a chorus from the Junior High School and by a fine chorus of some of the best of Holland's singers.

The outside musical organizations consist of a boys and a girls glee club which have furnished music on many programs in the city, a mixed chorus of members picked from the two glee clubs, which has given its attention to sacred music and a male quartette which has proven its popularity by its numerous engagements.

Let us beware of losing our enthusiasm.—Phillips Brooks.

BOYS' QUARTET

Seated: Miss Mills, Selby.
 Standing: Pelon, Van Leeuwen, Van Duren, Steketee.

ORCHESTRA

Seated: Slagh, Mooi, Steketee, Hompkes, Filon, De Gloppe.
 Second Row: De Good, Zuber, Selby, Miss Kepple, Lacey, Telling.
 Third Row: Schurman, Seekamp, Kepple, Hyma.

The Orchestra

It is generally acknowledged that music plays a very important part in the life of every institution. The orchestra has achieved a place among the accomplishments of Holland High School and represents to the student body its effort to develop one of the greatest of all arts. It has made steady progress since its organization last September and its appearances in public have been frequent and successful. This success is largely due to the untiring efforts of our director, Miss Keppel, and the splendid co-operation of each of the members. The orchestra has given the following public programs this year: At the Teacher's Reception, The Century Club, the play given by the Parent-Teacher's Club of Longfellow School, The Christmas Program, The Senior Play, and various others.

The officers for the year were:

President JACK PELON
Secretary and Treasurer SARAH LACEY

Male Quartet

During the school year 1924-1925 Holland High was again able to have a male quartet. In former years the male quartet was a popular musical organization, not only in the school, but also throughout the city. Then for a time Holland High was without such an organization.

Last fall, however, the suggestion was made that a quartet be formed. Acting upon this suggestion and the unanimous support given to it, Miss Mills selected four boys from the Glee Club to sing as a quartet. Since that time rapid progress has been made under the competent direction of Miss Mills, with Marjorie Selby as accompanist.

So far the quartet has made many appearances in public. They have sung before the assembly on different occasions, before various Parent-Teachers Clubs, society programs, Church C. E. meetings, Y. M. C. A. meetings, etc. They have already booked many more engagements to be filled before the close of the school year.

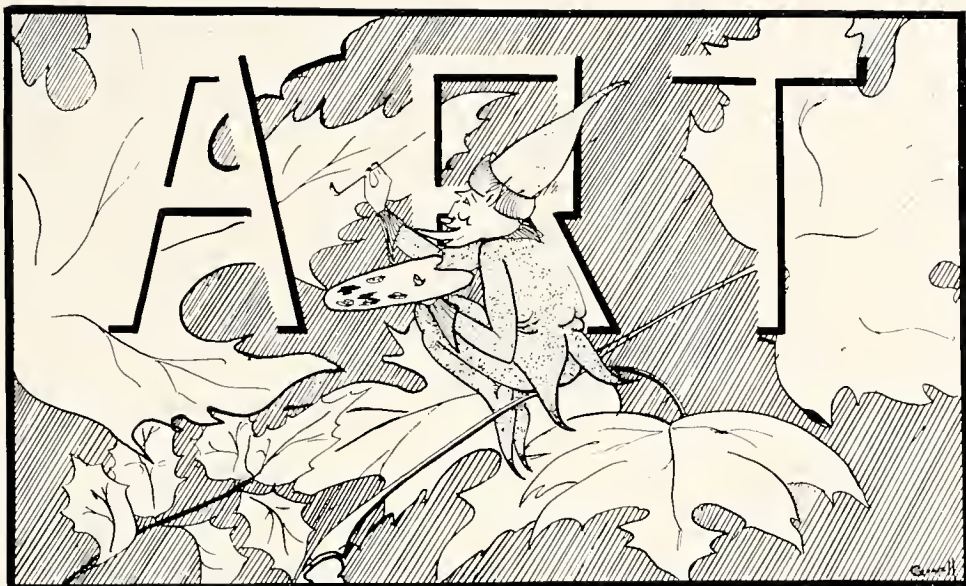

It is hoped that Holland High may never experience another year in which the students must miss all the enjoyment and pleasure afforded them by the male quartet.

Following are the members:

First Tenor "JACK" PELON
Second Tenor "NEAL" VAN LEEUWEN
First Bass FRANK VAN DUREN
Second Bass RAYMOND STEKETEE
Director MISS MILLS
Accompanist MARJORIE SELBY

Every man stamps his value upon himself—Schiller.

The Art Department

An old Chinese legend says, "A picture is a wordless poem." The Art Department is striving hard to produce this phase of love for the beautiful. It has become one of the most valuable departments of Holland High School and shows evidence of a very important future.

The comparatively new courses of Arts and Crafts and Commercial Art are proving very popular and effective.

Much credit and appreciation must be given to Miss Goldsmith whose earnest teaching has made her classes thoroughly enjoyable.

Not only enjoyment but practical experience has been gained by the Art students and the work of the year will never be regretted.

The worst of all frauds is to cheat oneself.—Bailey.

FIRST FOOTBALL TEAM

Seated: Mr. Hinga, Meyer, Kofe, Van Zanten, Hill, Cook, Breen, Jappinga.
 Second Row: Lighthart, Steffens, Morris, Du Mez, Van Duren, Rosen, Van Raalte, Dyke.
 Third Row: Kuiper, Bollans, Van Lente, Nettinga, Israels, Exo, Overweg, Prakken.

Football

When Coach Hinga issued the call for fall football practice nearly one hundred men responded. These men did their utmost to gain positions on the team.

The season was very successful considering the green material with which Mr. Hinga had to work. We broke ahead on the winning column having won five and lost three games. One of these games we won from Grand Haven which alone makes the season a success.

A great deal of credit goes to Mr. Hinga for as Coach he has instilled into the athletes and students that "never say die" spirit; and that fair play impulse which has urged the teams of the past two years on to victory.

It was Mr. Hinga who constantly kept before them an ideal of true athletic spirit; teaching them the real meaning of the words "good losers."

Next year Coach Hinga should have even a better team, for nine regulars are expected to return.

Everybody watch the team of 1926!

Football Reserves

After Mr. Hinga had picked his first squad last fall, there still remained some thirty to forty candidates for the second team. With these candidates a second team was organized which was very successful, partly due to the abundant material and also due to the fine coaching by Mr. Chapman.

The football reserves enjoyed a very successful season winning three out of the four games played. The reserves defeated Allegan reserves 13-0, and also took the measure of the Grand Haven seconds 21-0. The reserves also defeated Bangor by a 19-6 score. The team's only defeat was suffered from the hands of the Grand Rapids South seconds by a 19-9 score. The team deserves a great deal of credit for their fight and also for the way they stayed out for practice throughout the season. The team was composed mostly of Sophomores and Juniors which gives promise for a fine first team next year.

FIRST BASKET-BALL TEAM
Seated: Van Raalte, Essenberg, Van Zanten, Breen, Jappinga.
Standing: M. R. Hinga, Van Lente, Nettinga, Cook, Overeg.

Basket Ball

Basket Ball practice started immediately after football season. Many men answered to the first call. After about a week's practice, Mr. Hinga and Mr. Chapman began to cut the squad until there were about thirty men left. Mr. Hinga had a hard task staring him in the face as there were only two veterans of last year's team and a very hard schedule.

At the beginning of the second semester, Hill and Kole were lost by the nine semester ruling. This was a hard pill to swallow for these two men were capable performers.

At the tournament we lost to Kazoo Central in the first round. Kazoo won the district title by defeating Union, who were top favorites to win. We broke even on the season's games, winning seven and losing seven games.

Following was the schedule:

*Holland 30.....	Greenville	9
*Holland 25.....	Muskegon	18
Holland 15.....	Kazoo Normal	25
Holland 13.....	Grand Haven	15
Holland 25.....	Allegan	13

RESERVE BASKET-BALL CHAMPIONS

Seated: Vanderhil, Klaasen, Mr. Chapman, Winter, Rank.
Standing—Martin, De Weerd, Prakken, Bekken.

SECOND BASKET-BALL TEAM

Seated: Huyser, Vanderhil, Prakken, Rank, Arendshorst.
 Second Row: Winter, De Weerd, Mr. Chapman, Klerckoper, Bekken.
 Third Row: Martin, Klaasen, Paulus.

Second Team Basket Ball

The Reserve team made an exceptionally fine record the past season, capping their efforts by winning the Junior Champions of Western Michigan. Under the efficient coaching of Mr. Chapman the squad speedily rounded into form. Of the scheduled games played the team lost only three, twice to Union Reserves and once to the Muskegon Reserves. The two defeats at the hands of Union were atoned by the defeat the seconds handed them at the tournament.

Holland played four games at the tournament which was held at Grand Rapids, namely; Lansing South Baptists, Lowell Reserves, and the Firlik Hardwares, winning each game by a comfortable margin. Mr. Martin should also be credited for his efficient coaching during the semi-finals, and finals of the tournament.

The team was composed largely of Seniors so that much of the superior material will be lost to the next year's first and second teams. Holland High should be justly proud of their Reserve Basket Ball Team.

TRACK MEN

Seated: Meengs, Siersma, Breen, Meyer, Martin, Klaasen.

Second Row: Mr. Hartman, Mersma, Tysse, Souters, Van Duren, Van Wezel.

Third Row: Van Ark, Michmerhuizen, Meengs, Kolean, Hamburg, Exo, Schaap.

Track Team

A new feature in athletics has been started this past year and under the supervision of Coach Hartman, shows a promising future. Track is somewhat different than other athletics, such as football or basket ball. There is no way that the team can cover up the defects of an individual man. It is up to the person himself whether he is going to win or lose his particular event.

The first attempts of the track men were shown in the "Interclass Track Meet" held before spring vacation at which the Juniors won. After spring vacation these men with new competitors practiced every night. Here Coach Hartman worked with them and showed them their weak points.

April 11, the team had a dual meet with a much older team, South Haven. Here the team not only received a taste of defeat but it also received experience which helped very much later on. The final score was 78 to 29 in South Haven's favor.

Two weeks from this date, Holland was ready to meet our old rival Grand Haven. This was also Grand Haven's first year of track so there was an equal match. Here the men showed what they were made of and won from Grand Haven 79 to 46. This was counting 5 points for first man, 3 for second, and 1 for third.

Plans are being made for some of the men to go to the state meet at Kalamazoo May 9. The men are Capt. Meyers, Breen, Exo, De Boer and Meengs.

Prospect for the next year's team are very good, although Capt. Meyers, point man in sprints, and De Boer, best high jumper, graduate. The team will miss these men very much but Breen will step in the shoes of Meyers and with Exo, weight man, and Souters, pole vaulter and broad jumper, a promising future is in view.

The team owes a lot to Coach Hartman for his coaching. Most of the men had never even seen a track meet and so knew very little about any of the events. Hartman stepped right in, worked with the men, and turned out a team.

CHAMPION VOLLEY BALL TEAM
Seated: De Groot, Tusink, Karsten, Heneveld.
Standing: Miss Todd, Knaap.

A CLASSIC ESSAY

Essay on Frogs

A. Student

What a wonderful bird the frog are! When he stand, he sit, almost. When he hop he fly, almost. He ain't got no sense, hardly. He ain't got no tail, hardly, either. When he sit he sit on what he ain't got, almost.

Bill Vande Water: Well, there is one man that King George has to take his hat off to.

John Telling: I don't believe it.

Bill: How about his barber?

She had a vast amount of money, but it had come to her quite recently. One day an acquaintance asked her if she was fond of art.

"Fond of art!" she exclaimed, "Well, I should say I was! If I am ever in a city where there's an artery, I never fail to visit it."

"Ted, spell cloth," said Miss Wickes. Ted was silent.

"Come, come," said Miss Wickes, impatiently, "You know the word. What is your coat made of?"

"Father's old pants," he replied.

"Say, mister," said Elmer Kuiper to the grocer, "don't you want a boy to help get business for you?"

"What can you do?" the grocer inquired.

"I can stand out in front and eat candy and peanuts, and when the other kids see me they'll want some so bad they'll come in and buy."

The other day a policeman stopped Marion Bazaan, driving on Eighth Street, and told her to report at nine o'clock the next morning.

"The very idea! Why?" she exclaimed.

"I'm sorry," insisted the policeman, "but you were going forty miles an hour."

"Impossible!" exclaimed Marion indignantly, "Why, I haven't been out an hour yet."

Conductor: "I've been on this train seven years."

Brute: "That so? Where did you get on?"

Miss Rogers (in biology): We will now name some of the lower species of animals starting with Audries Steketee.

Gerald Bolhuis to drug clerk: "Gimme a yellow tablet."

Clerk: "What kinda tablet?"

Gerald: "A yellow one."

Clerk: "But what's the matter with you?"

Gerald: "I want to write a letter."

Whatever trouble Adam had,
No man in days of yore
Could say when he had told a joke,
I've heard that one before.

Written in the Physics class by Gerit Gerritson: "Mazda darling, be mine, Incandescent One! Watts life without you. Ohm is not ohm without the light of your presence. My heart is a transformer that steps up at every sight of you; I would insulate my head alongside your switch; the contact of your hands is like a live wire. Marry me, and let's have a little meter in our home.

Mr. McBride: "I guess my girl in high school has changed her mind about basket-ball. She is evidently going in for something more useful."

Friend: "How so?"

Mr. McBride: "Now she says that she has made the scrub team."

Congressman: "Want a job, eh? What can you do?"

Dean Martin: "Nothing."

Congressman: "Sorry, but those high salaried jobs are all taken long ago."

They were discussing the doings of Cecil Van Duren, who had made his fortune in New York.

"Do you," said one, "Think Cecil's money will last him long?"

"You bet it won't!" said the other. "He's going at an awful pace. Why, I was down at the store the other night and he was writing hundred dollar checks and lighting his cigarette with them."

Alvin: "You haven't any brains."

Gerald: "No brains? Why, man, I got brains that ain't never been used."

Marie Kleis: "I'm certainly at loss to know what to give my brother for his birthday."

Marj.: "Why don't you give him money?"

Marie: "Oh, it musn't cost as much as that."

"You're rather a young man to be left in charge of a drug shop," said the fuzzy old gentleman. "Have you a diploma."

"Why-er no, sir," replied Carl, "but we have a preparation of our own that's just as good."

A group of high-school girls had a chance to visit an observatory. The astronomer was very kind, answering all their questions. Esther Brink was puzzled and said:

"But, as it never has been proved that all the stars are inhabited, how do the astronomers ever find out their names?"

Porter: "How would you like to sleep, head first or feet first?"

Jim McCarthy: "If it's all the same to you, I'll sleep all at the same time."

Dope: "What am you doin' now?"

Bing: "I'se an exporter."

Dope: "An exporter?"

Bing: "Yep, the Pullman Company jest fired me."

"I told Clyde that he was not giving enough attention to the classics," remarked the conscientious Mr. Coster. "I reproached him for not knowing the difference between the Iliad and the Odyssey."

"Was he properly apologetic?"

"Not at all. He asked me if I knew the difference between crystal receptivity and a neutrodyne."

Chesty Kole: "What's that awful noise outside?"

Country Host: "Why, that's an owl."

Chesty: "I know it's an 'owl. But 'oos 'owling."

Jim Hoeksema had decided to become a salesman.

"Your predecessor," said his new employer, "has got his business all tangled up and I expect you'll have a hard time getting order out of chaos."

"I don't know who chaos is," said Jim, "but I bet I'll get an order out of him if I have to hang onto him for a week."

Miss Heckje: "Peter, what is a vacuum?"

Peter Kolean: "A vacuum? Well-er, I have it in my head but I can't explain it."

Miss Ross: "You sold me a car about two weeks ago."

Salesman: "How do you like it?"

Miss Ross: "I want you to tell me everything you said about that car over again. I'm getting discouraged."

Bing Miller (to entire stranger): Surely I've met you before."

Stranger: "When?"

Bing: "Didn't we meet in Quebec?"

Stranger: "Never been there."

Bing: "Funny; neither have I. Must have been two other men."

Edison, with all his inventions is not to be compared with the ambitious young photographer who advertised: "Your baby, if you have one, can be enlarged, tinted, and framed for $8.79."

Visitor: "Mrs. Du Mez, your daughter is improving in her playing."

Marjorie: "I'm not playing. I'm just dusting the piano."

Who cares whether Helen of Troy was a blonde or not? The reason she is famous is because she was the first woman to get her gowns from Paris.

George Essenburgh (browsing in the library): "The Last Days of Pompeii!"

"What did he die of?"

Glen: "Oh, I dunno, some sort of eruptions."

Class Books

Freshmen:

"Gullivers' Travels" by Swift. (Especially recommended for ambitious children).

Sophomores:

"How Soon May I Become a Scuior."

By A. Teacher.

Juniors:

"Love's Young Dream." (Nuff said).

Seniors:

"Ecclesiastical History of England," by Bede. (Dry but valuable).

"But this picture makes me look so much older," objected Marion Brunner.

"That's the beauty of it," said the photographer. "Ten years from now it will be an even better likeness of you than it is today."

Mae Eloise: "Do you know the difference between a presiding officer and a vaudeville dancer?"

Dorothy Stroop: "Can't say I do."

Mae Eloise: "One entertains motions and the other's motions entertain."

Water

Water is a substance largely liquid in composition and is the habitat of germs, molecules and fish. It is found to a large extent in rain, milk and most milkmen, and bathtubs. It constitutes practically the only obstacle to the construction of a fine road between New York and London. Its use is largely exterior, being favored for the washing of clothes, automobiles and faces. It has, however, become the favorite national drink of the United States. Water is the principal cause of floods, navies, and raincoats and is largely responsible for the formation of ice. In conjunction with soap it is regarded by many authorities as an excellent cure for Bolshevism.

Mrs. Walvoord: "Wilhelmina, is the clock running?"

Billy: "No. It's just standing still and wagging its tail."

The judge observed: "You seem to have committed a grave assault on the complainant just because he differed from you in opinion."

"There was no help for it, your honor," said Clarence Knowles. "The man is a perfect idiot."

"Well you must pay $10 and costs and in the future try to remember that idiots are human beings just the same as you and me."

Grocer: "Eggs hit rock bottom, madam, last week."

Mrs. Reimersma: "Then that accounts for many you sent me cracked."

From a recent Junior High examination: "Who was Frances Willard?" One pupil wrote, "He is a famous prize fighter."

Another: "She was the first to introduce women's sufferings."

"Archilles was dipped into the river Styx to make him normal."

"Pompeii was destroyed by an eruption of saliva from the Vatican."

Myra: "Sport is indispensable to health."

Evelyn: "Our grandfathers didn't go in for it."

Myra: "No, and they are all dead!"

Inspector: "Any abnormal children in your classes?"

Miss Anthony: "Yes, two of them have good manners."

My favorite joke:

* YOU.

Without consulting any of the authorities on etiquette, we will answer the question "When is the proper time for a man to lift his hat?" At the following times and on the following occasions, respectively, the hat should be removed or lifted, as circumstances indicate: when mopping the brow; when taking a bath; when eating; when going to bed; when taking up a collection; when having the hair cut; when being shampooed; and when standing on the head.

Nervous musician, Ray Steketee: "I—er—I just called round, madam, to tell you that your cat—er—kept us awake last night with his serenade. I am a musician myself and a human man, and I—er—don't wish to suggest that the animal be destroyed, but I thought it would help if you could have it—er—tuned."

The lesson bored Paul Dykstra until Miss Rogers began:

"If you smoke you will have tobacco heart, if you drink coffee you will have a coffee heart—"

Paul's hand went up quickly.

Miss Rogers: "Well, Paul."

Paul: "If I eat candy will I have a sweet heart?"

A Line A Day

SEPT. 2—School began and a regular scramble for arranging schedules followed.

SEPT. 3—First football practice of the year: bruises and bumps.

The Gift Beautiful —and Practical

There is no gift more appropriate, more appreciated, than a beautiful watch.

The joy of giving and the pride of receiving such a gift is greatest when the watch bears a name and reputation famous for beauty and accuracy.

Such a watch is the Gruen, a standardized timepiece with the individuality and precision that comes from hand finishing by master craftsmen. In our complete line of Gruen Verithin and Wrist Watches you will find every style and variety priced at $25 and up.

The Value of the High School Annual

is fully appreciated by all graduates as evidenced by the energy and resourcefulness of classes small in numbers in unfriendly environment who often achieve results distinctly creditable. This is due to their recognition of the fact that graduation marks the end of the preparatory period of their lives as well as the entering upon that period of maturity for which practically their entire lives heretofore have been consecrated. Happiness is principally a thing of the past or the future, seldom of the present. Memory is the great medium. The springs of memory are those tangible things which stimulate recollections. This is achieved by no other means so effectively as through the school publications. Hence the value of the Annual. It serves to recall, hence grows increasingly valuable with the passage of the years. Annuals then are not a temporary publication, on the contrary they are often preserved beyond the lives of the members of the class. This suggests the necessity for the selection of materials for insertion therein which will survive the test of time. Papers disintegrate, inks fade, bindings fall apart. Therefore cheapness should be the last consideration as the determining factor in the placing of work of this kind. We are too modest to suggest who in our opinion it would be best for you to entrust with this work, but we want to state that we have had a lot of experience in producing "Annuals That Survive."
